

Please don't weaken the current do/not/call legislation. For the first time in our lives we manage to get through a dinner without constant interruption from vendors of everything under the sun. A few get through but that is manageable.

Ernest H Winter, Jr. Princeton